Wrongful death suits settled

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Two wrongful death suits scheduled to be tried this week in a Hancock County Circuit Court Special Session have been settled.

The multi-million dollar suits had been brought by the families of two women who died following oxygen deprivation at Hancock General Hospital.

Judge James E. Thomas imposed a gag order which prevents the attorneys from disclosing the amount and terms of the settlements.

However, Thomas told the seven-man, five-woman jury Tuesday the matter had been settled with "all sides satisfied."

The jury had been selected hear testimony in the suit by the family of 74-year-old Elizabeth Henderson Latour who died during surgery May 20, 1983.

A similar suit brought by the family of Margaret Ann Neccaise Amann, 32, was settled Friday.

Amann was injured during surgery the same day and died five days later.

A suit filed by Amann's husband and two minor children asked for $3 million in compensatory damages and $15 million in punitive damages.

Louis J. Latour of Bay St. Louis and Mary Margaret Aleman of Pearllington had brought the suit against Dr. Joseph H. Nodurt of Bay St. Louis and Allied Healthcare Products Inc.

They asked from $1 million in compensatory damages and $3 million in punitive damages.

Opening arguments in the case were scheduled to begin 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Approximately 1:30 p.m. Thomas told the jury the matter had been settled without the necessity of a "six-week trial."

Following the report of the settlement, Thomas told jurors their presence had served a useful purpose.

"Sometimes things don't get done until they have to be done," he continued.

Plaintiff's Attorney Donald Dornan said the family as well as the legal team is very well pleased and satisfied with the settlement.

"We feel very gratified in that we feel we accomplished what we set out to do which was not just to compensate the Latour family for the loss of their loved one but, hopefully, by bringing the suit and bringing to light what happened, to prevent this type of accident from happening to anyone in the future," Dornan continued.

Court records reveal, hoses from tanks containing oxygen and nitrous oxide to the anesthesia machine were cross-connected before May 17, 1983.

A monitor was blamed for inconsistent oxygen readings during surgeries on May 17 and 19. The monitor was not used in the May 20 operations.

Dornan said it was "pure happenstance" more people were not injured because of the cross connections which fed 100 percent nitrous oxide instead of oxygen to Latour and Aleman.

Types of surgical procedures and the general health of patients determine the techniques of anesthesiology which does not always require 100 percent oxygen, he added.

The Latour suit claimed Allied had been aware of the potential risk and hazards of the interchangeable lines of the anesthesia equipment and had previously rejected design changes to correct the problem.

Other defendants in the original suit by the Latours included Deborah Rucker of Slidell, La., a registered nurse anesthetist; Medical Specialties Inc., Capitol Medical Supplies, Allegheny International Inc., and Chemtron Corporation, various companies involved in the design, manufacture, marketing and installation of the anesthesia equipment.

Lt. Col. Alan D. Catron, U.S. Army, assumed command of the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant (MSAAP), on Wednesday at the National Space Technology Laboratories base.

Lt. Col. Catron relieved Lt. Col. R.W. Bregard, U.S. Army, who was commander of MSAAP for two years.

Major General Fred Hissong Jr., Commanding General US Army Armament, Munitions and Chemical Command, praised Lt. Col. Bregard on his two years of progress at the Hancock County Army Ammunition plant.

General Hissong stated, "Commanding an ammunition plant is a tough job, and Col. Bregard met the challenge to bring the startup and make it successful."

Col. Bregard expressed appreciation to his staff, Mason Chamberlain Inc., and government personnel from many agencies, who have worked so hard to attain an initial production capability at MSAAP.

Col. Bregard will remain in the area for five or six weeks General Hissong said, before moving to his new assignment in Washington D.C.

In closing Col. Bregard stated, "...My associates and friends in the surrounding communities have made this a memorable assignment. Carolyn and I will miss you and the Mississippi Gulf Coast."

General Hissong said Col. Catron would continue the progress at MSAAP just as Col. Bregard and the previous commanders did.

Captain Jason Annitto, executive officer of MSSAP gave the welcome and introductions with Lt. Dwight Hoyer, USN, chaplain NMCB Seven giving the invocation and benediction.

Lt. Col. Catron was born in Aurora, Mo. Feb. 26, 1948. ## School board tables free tuition for teachers

By DENA BISNETTE

The Bay-Waveland School District Board has tabled a proposal that would allow the children of teachers living outside the district to attend school without paying tuition.

The proposal was made by Board Member Linda Fausch, who said "We should do something nice for our teachers."

The proposal is expected to be discussed again after Superintendent of Education Roger Oge completes a study on the matter.

Oge said the study should be ready in time for the next board meeting.

He said he wants to find out how many students and how much tuition revenue will be involved.

If the proposal is approved, it will be implemented for the 1987-88 school year.

The tuition fee for a child living outside the school district is presently $300 per school year.

Teachers who work in the district but live outside the district have brought in about 15 students, all of whom are required to pay tuition. District Business Manager Garland Cuevas estimated that the tuition supplies about $5,000 per year in revenue.

The free tuition is expected to be an incentive that will help keep teachers from leaving the district for jobs nearer to their residences.

Board Member L.D. Carter said he feels the proposal will be beneficial to teachers, particularly those with more than one child attending school.

However, Carter said he would oppose free tuition for the children of administrators living outside the district.

"I feel that in becoming an administrator, these people have taken a step up in their incomes and can afford tuition," he explained.

Cuevas said the incomes from those tuitions is already in the current school year's budget and asked the board not to implement the proposal this year.

Implementing the proposal for the current school year would have resulted in the tuitions being refunded.

In other business Monday, the board recognized the district's cafeteria workers as part of a new program proposed and implemented by Board President Betty Diboll.

Diboll plans to formally invite a different group of district employees to each regular board meeting.

The cafeteria workers were the first group selected and will be presented certificates of appreciation for their service at North Bay and Waveland Elementary Schools, St. Rose Fifth Grade Center, Bay Junior High and Bay Senior High.

The next group to be recognized will be the school district's secretaries, Diboll said.

Other business Monday included:

—Board acceptance of a resignation from Bay High English and Journalism teacher Jill Williams;

—Approval of a request from the City of Bay St. Louis that the name of the Bay-Waveland School District be expanded to Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District in order to preserve historical tradition;

—Board approval for employment of Lesley Stone as a North Bay teacher and Marie Bernard as a part-time library aide for the fifth grade center;

—A report from Laura Griffith, president of Fifth Grade Family, the fifth grade center parents-teachers organization, on election of officers;

—Approval of a request from Griffith for permission to hold a book fair to obtain donations for the fifth grade center library;

—Authorization to advertise for bids for two copy machines; and —Authorization to advertise for bids for repair of the Bay Junior High roof, a project that had been delayed while being cleared for partial funding through the State Educational Finance Commission.

The board's next meeting is a special meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in the Bay Senior High Library with three architectural firms submitting proposals in connection with the district's long-range building program.

Architects selected to participate include Fred Wagner, Compton and Bolton and Fountain and Lamas.

Supervisors purchase site, approve central barn bid

By DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has purchased land and accepted a bid for a central county barn.

The bid was unanimously accepted by the board Tuesday and totaled about $79,200. It was the lowest of five bids and was submitted by Leon C. Miles Inc.

The purchase of the 10-acre site, located on Highway 43 adjacent to and west of the Highway 43 Community Center and Ballpark, cost the county about $38,000.

The barn bid had to be approved Tuesday on the contingency that the land purchase be properly completed.

Board Attorney Gerald Gex said the final paperwork on the land purchase was filed at the courthouse at about 11 a.m. Wednesday.

The county will provide the labor and equipment for clearing the land and for some of the foundation dirt work because doing so will be less expensive than having the contractor do it as part of the construction project.

The proposed barn will house an office for County Maintenance Superintendent Bill Johnson and his secretary, a conference room for the board, maintenance bays for county

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

Demand is up for Apartment Houses

Question: I continue to look for good investments in real estate and am curious as to the national outlook for investing in an apartment building. F.R., Jackson

Answer: Dear F.R.: According to various sources, the apartment house market is healthy, with rents, purchase prices and demand being strong in all but a scattering of markets.

The 1981 tax law created favorable conditions for a building boom and for increased investor interest in both new and existing units.

Today, a few markets have serious short-term problems as a result of an oversupply, but no market is facing disaster. Most areas are doing quite well. For the most part, the historical advantages of apartment investments are still firmly in place.

Demand is reasonably strong.

Barbara Frierson seeks Justice Court judgeship

Hancock County Justice Court Judge Barbara Frierson is seeking election Nov. 4 to fill the unexpired term of her late husband, Judge Horatio Frierson Jr.

Frierson has been serving on the Hancock County-West Justice Court bench since the death of her husband Jan. 24, 1980.

She was appointed by the Hancock Board of Supervisors to serve in her husband's position until the Nov. 4 General Election.

If elected, she will serve for the one year remaining on her husband's third term in office.

Frierson, prior to being named judge, assisted her husband for some 10 years with his court duties.

She is a resident of Flat Top Community.

"Working with my late husband for the past ten years, I feel, has left me with the necessary qualifications to continue serving you as Justice Court judge," Frierson stated.

"Serving as Justice Court judge is a full-time job, and my duties have prevented me from personally calling on as many of you as I would have liked," she continued.

"So I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the strong support so many have given, and I ask each of you for your help and your vote on election day," Frierson stated.

Crittenden's request for office denied

By BRENDA HEATECOCK
The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission rejected a single use permit petition for a lot facing on Drinkwater Road.

Dr. James Crittenden requested the permit to convert a house on the lot which faces the site of the new Hancock Medical Center to a doctor's office.

In his motion to deny the petition Commission Chairman Joe Marchino said he believed it would be spot zoning, the single use permit use did not apply in this case and the petition was simply a method to get around the hospital-clinic zoning.

The lot in question is one of four lots considered for hospital-clinic zoning but denied by the Bay St. Louis City Council in August.

Several area residents appeared at the meeting to voice protests of the single use permit.

A petition with approximately 40 signatures of surrounding residents was also presented in opposition to the single use permit request.

Quotables by CUEVAS

Last week was a good week, as Jane and I were able to get away for a Florida vacation.

Not only was getting away from work for a week a blessing, in addition we were able to be away from much of the rain. I see Florida is having the rain this week.

Vacations are fine, but the getting back to work and catching up is something else.

Tonight the annual Rotary Club's fund raising dinner will be held at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall.

The dinner will be from 5:30 to 8 p.m. and will include fried chicken, baked ham, string beans, potato salad, tea or coffee, and homemade desserts.

Dick Shadoin and Jan Brameyer are the general chairmen for the dinner.

Funds raised from the event are to be used by the Rotary Club for community activities.

Rotary members have tickets, or they may be purchased at the door for a donation of $5, and take-outs will be available.

We hope to see you at the Rotary fund raising dinner.

Crisp weather seems to have arrived for the seventh week of high school football in the area.

It will be homecoming for the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws Friday night as they host Riverdale.

Head Coach Vernon Powell's young Rocks have had two weeks to prepare for Riverdale.

The Rock-A-Chaws scored more points in their last outing than the combined total of the first four games.

The Rocks offense appears ready to explode, and homecoming would be a good time for the local team to come up with a victory.

Hancock North Central's undefeated Hawks will visit Long Beach's Bearcats on Friday.

The Bearcats would like to upset the Hawks, but Head Coach Irvin Farve's exploding offense should make the difference.

The team of 1986 is probably the best overall Hawk squad in the school's history.

Hancock has offered fans excitement every game this season.

Head Coach Alton Wright's Pass Christian Pirates would like to continue in the victory column as they travel to Pearl River Central.

The Pirates took their first victory of the season last week against East Central and should give Pearl River Central a good battle Friday.

The Tigers of Bay High are resting this week with an open date.

Coach Cleveland Williams' Tigers have been strong since their two-point opening loss to a strong Stone County squad.

Support your local teams, and remember, kickoffs are at 7:30 p.m.

We hope to see you at the games.

Whatever happened to patriotism?

Dear Editor,
I was never so appalled as recently when I read a caption in the Times-Picayune newspaper about children being given an option by the state legislature whether to recite the Pledge of Allegiance.
When I was a child going to school, you stopped dead in your tracks when the flag was being raised.
The first thing before class began each morning we recited the pledge to the flag.
It's no wonder you see people putting flags up on their windows, letting them up after dark and let them drag the ground.
What is our country coming to? If they have no respect for the American flag, how can they call themselves Americans and be proud of the U.S.A., a free country?

Half of the people today don't even know the Pledge of Allegiance or the Star Spangled Banner.

We were taught this at home before we even went to school.

I didn't mean for this to be so lengthy, but it just gets my dander up when I see people forget what a great country we live in and show disrespect for our flag of these United States of America.

Respectfully,

Bayou condition proves pollution

Dear Editor,
I'm so pleased to know someone answered my letter, because I know now I'm right.
To Ms. Shirley Schwebel's reply to my letter:
You referred to our bayou as a drainage ditch.
Well, if it is a drainage ditch why did they put a bridge over it?
It is a bayou that leads to Jourdan River.
I will add it has been proven it is polluted—you tell me a normal bayou is lime green, the banks pure black with feces?
I challenge anyone to come to our so-called drainage ditch and fish off our bridge. When you catch the fish, go home, clean them then try to eat them. Then come back and tell me this bayou is not polluted.

I would really like to hear the reply from the EPA man, then tell him to come to our so-called drainage ditch to take samples of this water.

Bay St. Louis does not have a sewer plant, as a matter of fact, Bay St. Louis is supposed to connect into Waveland's plant in two years, maybe.

Years back, people all along this area that the pollution has effected had meetings after meetings without any solutions from our officials.

Surveyor sees no land-grab by state

The Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Sir:
Claimants of tide-land property in our three Coast counties are burdening themselves with needless anxiety fearing that the State of Mississippi will exercise its valid right of ownership of subject lands.

The state is interested in establishing ownership in order to benefit financially from revenues derived from the mineral rights belonging to subject areas.

It would be illogical to assume that the state would attempt to appropriate all rights of ownership to certain areas where millions of dollars have been invested in development: the maritime industries on the banks of the Pascagoula River; the beachside of Beach Boulevard, (U.S. Hwy. 90) in Harrison County and many others.

What could possibly develop would be the inconvenience of inability to effect financing using the property as collateral. However that would be only a temporary inconvenience, the problem can be easily resolved.

The following is a similar, not identical, case in point. I know of no two identical cases; each an individual case with its own particular problems.

In the late 1940's the Federal Government notified the claimants of all lands in Section 25, T8S, R14W in Hancock County that title to said lands lay in the Federal Government and further that the government had leased the mineral rights at subject areas to the Bruce Anderson Syndicate located in Denver, Colo.

When this information became public knowledge all real estate transactions in subject section came to an immediate sudden stop.

Several lawyers, surveyors, etc., began making efforts to rectify the situation. Regardless of how well intentioned, these people were making no progress fast.

Mr. August Scaffidi, the owner of the Wheel Inn restaurant on Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis was the claimant of a tract comprising 15 acres with more than 1,200 feet fronting on the highway.

Because of the constant prodding by the Federal Government and the lack of progress being made by the above mentioned people, Mr. Scaffidi secured the services of a land man familiar with the procedures necessary to clear the titles for the claimants. All of the claimants received good, valid, merchantable title to their lands.

There are several land men in our three counties who are quite knowledgeable in this type of activity.

Should this letter help to allay the anxieties of our neighboring claimants it will have served its purpose.

Hospital stay brings pleasant surprises

stomach surgery. At this time neither of them is able to work. Therefore, I am appealing to the community to help in some small way to see them through this crisis.

I found the nurses to be kind and the hospital clean and neat. Also, the doctor was great! We all are very lucky to have services such as the home health care. My nurse and aide were super.

Edward and Viola Ishem have long been recognized in this community as two people who have given assistance to many people throughout the community.

For instance, Viola has worked the Harbor House. The Harbor House provided shelter for many displaced girls. Even though the home is no longer her place of employment, many of the former residents visit the Ishems, because this was their home, their family.

Ed and Vi have been a valuable asset to people throughout the county. We must not forget that contribution.

Within the past six weeks they have had major surgery in July and in September, Viola had major Think how many lives and money could be saved if they would not have to be hunting for dope peddlers by plane, boat, cars and any other ways? The many lives alone should be an answer.

Mississippi Economic Council

SPECIAL TO THE SEA COAST ECHO

A young Bay St. Louis resident has been selected to participate in a five-month training program designed to assist Mississippi's emerging young leaders.

The program is part of the Mississippi Economic Council's Leadership Mississippi Program. Now in its 13th year, Leadership Mississippi helps identify the state's young leaders and encourage their participation in public affairs.

The MEC program is under the chairmanship of Dr. Gerald Turner, Chancellor of the University of Mississippi, and offers leadership skill development, research in public issue problems, and training in problem-solving activities.

The 30 participants in the 1986-87 program were selected from some 200 nominees from throughout the state. The 30 represent various segments of Mississippi's economy and geographic areas.

P. Bernard Jacob of Bay St. Louis is Bay-Pass Area supervisor for Mississippi Power Company.

A graduate of Mississippi State University, he is a member of the Mississippi Industrial Development Council, the Mississippi Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives, and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Jacob also is a member of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, Gulf Coast Private Industry Council, and the National Management Association.

Dean of the seminar for the seventh year will be Dr. Donald Moseley, professor of management and former dean of the College of Business and Management Studies at the University of South Alabama in Mobile. The seminar, scheduled for October 15-17 in Jackson, will include intensive instruction in skills development and leadership training.

"This program has been extremely successful as many former participants have taken active roles in community and statewide affairs," Dr. Turner said. "An essential element in the continuing growth and economic development of Mississippi is leadership—strong, active, informed, and committed leaders."

Maximum age for participation is 35. The schedule calls for the seminar, field research in specific problem areas by five delegate teams, and development of action plans for problem solving based on the research.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—The snowballing movement to end the reign of Buddie Newman as speaker of the Mississippi House should be viewed from the standpoint of its broader historical significance rather than merely a changing of legislative players.

In substance, it is a watershed movement to end a half century of control of the lower chamber of the Mississippi Legislature by a Delta-style plantation system.

It was a system built around a strong central figure equivalent to the plantation master, who ran the show through his tight coterie of straw bosses, in this case his top hand-picked committee chairmen. And to get to be part of the system, members had to come hat in hand and beg for benevolence at the hands of the master and his lieutenants.

The system was designed almost 50 years ago by the consummate Delta plantation boss, the late Walter Sillers of Rosedale, a courtly lawyer-politician-planter, who operated for a quarter of a century as speaker of the House, and trained those who would carry on after him.

Buddie Newman is perhaps Sillers' cleverest disciple, although he was not one of Sillers' top choices to carry his mantle.

But the power play by Newman in 1974 to become speaker pro tem, an astute maneuver to cut other members of the old guard out of the pattern, stamped him as a shrewd operative, never to be underestimated.

Last week, when 51 members of the House came to town and put their names on the line to begin the process of removing Newman from power, it became apparent that the Sillers old guard is about to end its course in the history of Mississippi.

The revolt over Newman's leadership was actually begun in the making since the end of the 1970s when the first signs of dissatisfaction among younger members began to appear because of the under-utilization of their talents.

A new contingent of bright, independent young lawmakers arrived in the House in 1980 and promptly became disenchanted with Newman's autocratic control. By 1982, disaffection came out into the open after Newman pulled his infamous gaveling of the House into adjournment on a "deadline" day, putting to death the kindergarten enabling act.

The Newman move fueled a chain of events, including the ABC "26/26" program, that eventually brought about enactment of the Education Reform Act and kindergarten a few days before Christmas, 1982.

Moreover, the 1982 kindergarten opener by Newman became the symbol of his arbitrary use of power in bringing about a public demand for Newman's removal from the speakership.

The role of public opinion in shaping Newman's destiny must not be overlooked. It is the biggest factor that has brought some of the major changes in the House, such as Rep. Bill Nipper of Grenada, Rep. Ralph Doxey of Holly Springs, Rep. Terrell Stubbs of Mendenhall and Rep. Ed Buelow of Vicksburg, to the bargaining table and demanding Newman's removal.

When Nipper, Doxey, Stubbs and Buelow, all of whom have been given important chairmanships by Newman, openly joined the ouster movement, it became clear that the revolt had too much headway to be quelled by Newman loyalists.

Some estimated last week that possibly only about 20 of the House's 122 members would fight to the end for Newman, who openly joined the ouster movement, it became clear that the revolt had too much headway to be quelled by Newman loyalists.

Some estimated last week that possibly only about 20 of the House's 122 members would fight to the end for Newman. However, there are still 25 to 30 members who are sitting on the fence, waiting to see if a majority has joined the revolt.

Once more than 50 members last Friday put their names to the statement declaring their intent to "insure democracy in the rules of the House" and for "new and progressive" leadership, there was little doubt the numbers will quickly pass the 62 required for a majority.

The 26-member steering committee which grew out of last week's caucus is slated to meet this Friday and move the leadership change process another step along the way.

Although common ground has been found on removing Newman, the personality battle between as many as six members who aspire to be speaker is still strong.

Until that struggle narrows itself down to a workable number of candidates, there is still some danger that the revolt could come apart.

Some close to the scene are concerned that forces beyond the House itself, namely the business and industry lobbyists and their PACs with money to influence legislative races, could wind up hand-picking the next speaker.

He estimated the animal's size to be about seven feet. (Staff photo by Dena Blonette)

Hunt seasons to open Saturday

October is usually always a big month for Mississippi hunters. And the weekend of Oct. 18 should prove to be no less when two of the most popular hunting seasons open.

Squirrel season opens Saturday, Oct. 18 and will extend through Jan. 15. The daily bag limit is eight and the possession limit is 16, with no possession limit on opening day.

Reports from biologists in many sections of the Magnolia State indicate that this will apparently be a good year for mast crops like acorns which are a prime food for squirrels. Some say this is a good indicator that next year's population of squirrels may be good, barring other factors.

In Mississippi some 2.3 million squirrels were harvested last year by just over 150,000 hunters. They averaged taking just under three squirrels per day.

Also opening on Oct. 18 is rabbit season. The daily bag limit is eight and the possession limit is 16, with no possession limit on opening day.

Rabbit hunting is one of the most popular of the shooting sports and has been for years. Hunting rabbits with a pack of trained beagle dogs and a group of friends has become an established tradition in many areas.

Each year over a million rabbits are taken by nearly 90,000 hunters. They average harvesting almost two rabbits per day. The season closes Feb. 28.

Hunters should remember that shooting hours for both squirrel and rabbit are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset. Of course, hunters should have a valid hunting license signed and on their person before going afield.

"Baked garlic? Ugh - how could you eat it?" was the response of several readers to last week's column, in which I mentioned baked garlic as one of the zesty appetizers in that delightful cookbook, "The Joy of Cocktails and Hors d'Oeuvres" by Bev Bennett and Kim Upton (Barron's, $13.95).

Well, as I also mentioned at the time, although I had tried and enjoyed a number of the recipes, I had not mustered up the nerve to try this off-the-beaten-track dish - but I'm delighted to tell you now that I finally dared a couple of other diners with adventurous - or curious - tastebuds to join me in my garlic feast - with wonderfully tasty results! And, now, all the others are demanding that I bake up another batch.

I did as these knowledgeable writers directed - I hid the garlic in a crusty bread case, and let my companions discover for themselves what a creamy and mild-tasting food it is, done in this manner. It's sweet-tasting and inoffensive - you'll still be welcome in "polite society" after indulging!

And, garlic, as you probably know, is good for you. It has been regarded as a health food down through the ages. As for eating it, the secret: the smell of just one clove of garlic, peeled, crushed or chopped fine and added to salad or bread and butter or such, is quite pungent and lingers on the breath.

But, when cooked for a long time, as in a stew, garlic loses much of that pungency and harmonizes pleasantly with the other ingredients.

For example, there's another famed dish, roast chicken with 40 cloves of garlic (about three heads) in which the long cooking time required turns the garlic into a mild and sweet-tasting accompaniment to the chicken.

So, here's:

BAKED GARLIC
3 heads (not cloves, WHOLE HEADS) garlic
2 Tbsp. clarified butter
2 Tbsp. chicken broth
3 sprigs (1½ to 2 in. each) fresh rosemary, or ½ tsp. dried pepper, salt

1 round loaf Italian bread, about 1½ lb. size

4 Tbsp. butter, melted
1) Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Remove the outer, paper skin from the heads of garlic, but DON'T separate into cloves. Fit the heads into a one and three-quarters cup oven-proof dish.

2) Combine the butter and broth, and pour over the garlic. Arrange the rosemary around the garlic, or sprinkle the dried rosemary over. Pepper and salt to your taste. Bake for one hour and 15 minutes, basting every 15 minutes with the butter mixture.

3) Meanwhile, cut a three to four-inch circle off the top of the bread, and reserve the top. Hollow out the inside, leaving a half-inch shell. (Leftover bread may be frozen, and used for crumbs or pudding - bread pudding, what else?)

Cut bread in half, starting from the top, leaving one to two inches joined at the bottom. Then, cut each half into four wedges, again leaving the bottom joined. Place a sheet of foil on a cookie sheet, and the bread, atop.

4) Brush inside and top of bread with melted butter, and place in oven during last 15 minutes garlic is baking, and warm through.

5) To serve, lace bread in attractive bowl (a round straw basket is wonderful) and arrange garlic heads inside. Cover with bread lid.

Allow guests to remove bread lid, take off a garlic clove and pinch it to remove the skin. Then, tear off part of the bread and spread the softened garlic on it. Mints, anyone?

P.S. Clarified butter: cut butter into pieces and melt over medium heat in a saucepan, then skim off the foam, and strain into a bowl. The milky residue remaining may be used in soups or sauces.

If you're out of fresh rosemary, hurry over to my house; I've a bit left in the herb garden; otherwise,

Bay St. Louis water system improvements master plan

PLAN APPROVED—The Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday approved a design for an $851,030 water system improvements project which will provide adequate domestic water and fire flow to several areas currently not serviced by the city. Water system improvements included in the project also provides for future growth in the city. In spite of the engineer's estimate, Bay Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. said he believes with good bids on the project the cost will be closer to $750,000. The city currently has $600,000 borrowing power under the last Farmers' Home Administration improvement project and $150,000 is included in the city 1967 budget capital improvements.

Crop estimates

Expected average yields down

Concern among state farmers about low crop yields became reality in September when the release of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's latest crop production estimate.

According to the September estimates, yields for cotton and soybeans are expected to be substantially lower than August estimates. The earlier estimate were taken when crop conditions were more favorable.

Dr. Bob Williams, head of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Agricultural Economics and Marketing Department, said farmers can expect poor profits along with depressed yields.

"Although projected U.S. crops are down substantially from 1965 levels, overall profits to Mississippi producers will remain poor," Williams said.

In the report cotton yields took the biggest plunge in Mississippi, dropping from an estimated 740 pounds in August to 600 pounds in September. soybean yield estimates were down four bushels per acre to an average of 17 bushels.

The projected yields are "among the lowest in several years, and along with depressed market prices, give farmers little hope of substantial profits in 1933," Williams said.

Williams said soybean farmers will be particularly hard-hit by the low yields and prices, although wheat spots include record corn

U.S. soybean production is 1 percent at more than 1.9 million bushels, 6 percent less than the 1966 crop.

Mississippi producers are expected to harvest 42.5 million bushels of soybeans, 40 percent lower than last year's production. This 17 bushel-per-acre estimate is four bushels lower than the August estimate.

The September soybean estimate is the lowest since 1980, Williams said. The average is 22 bushels per acre.

Corn is the only bright spot in the production report. Although U.S. corn yields are down 7 percent nationwide, the Mississippi estimate is up 70 percent from more than 7.5 million bushels in 1965 to more than 13.2 million bushels.

Port and Harbor Commission eyes new office building

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission has outgrown its office.

Commissioner David McDonald told the other members of the commission Monday that the existing office is no longer large enough for the amount of work conducted there, is inconveniently laid out and projects the wrong image to prospective industries.

McDonald proposed that a committee be formed to study the needs of the commission and provide a list of facilities that would fulfill those needs.

He will serve as chairman for the committee, which also includes Oliver Frierson and Nancy Gex.

The present structure is a metal, trailer-type building on Highway 603 behind Waveland Resort Inn.

"We have the best location we could possibly have, being here with the highway running out to Stennis Airport and US-90 running out to Port Bienville," McDonald said.

"What I would like to see is a new building on this site."

Port Bienville Industrial Park and Stennis Airport near Highway 603 and Interstate-10 are both under the jurisdiction of the commission.

The property belongs to Lafitte Corporation, the original developers of Waveland Resort Inn, Commission Attorney Gerald Gex said.

Gex said the commission has a long-term lease on the property and may continue that lease "so long as the land is used for public purposes."

Because the use of the land will not be changed, the lease will not be affected if a new office is built, the attorney explained.

The present office was originally owned by Coast Electric Power Association and used by engineers. It was sold to the Port and Harbor Commission 14 years ago and is 20 to 25 years old.

McDonald said the building was to be temporary.

In addition to his complaint about the building being too small for the amount of business the commission presently handles, the commissioner said the building does not project a favorable image to the heads of prospective industries.

"Suppose you had an industry and you were thinking of locating at Port Bienville. Coming in here, you'd probably be wondering if you'd be in trailers too," McDonald explained.

"Even the local people call this the little trailer behind the Resort Inn."

The building is also not laid out in a convenient manner. The section behind the commissioner's meeting room contains the structure's only restrooms and several small offices presently used for storage.

The location of the restrooms is particularly inconvenient, the commissioner said, when the commission is meeting in executive session.

Any of the commissioners may leave the session to use the restrooms, but the closed boardroom cuts off access to anyone in the outer office or reception area.

"If one of our secretaries or an industrial prospect is out there, the only way that person can use a restroom is to leave the building and walk around to the hotel," McDonald explained.

The committee is planning a special meeting to discuss the new office. In other business Monday, the commission discussed but took no action on a claim by Southland Enterprises, Inc.

Southland is requesting $135,000 additional compensation for work on a parallel taxiway at Stennis Airport.

The matter was turned over to Gex, who said the claim is being handled by the commission's other attorney, Robert Genin.

Genin was absent Monday because he was trying a case, Gex said.

Also on Monday, the commission heard a report from its president, Ronald Artigue, who said that 10 applications for the position of Port and Harbor Director have been received.

—Appointed Director James DeBlanc and Commissioner Russell Elliott.

—Agreed to arrange a meeting between the heads of industries at Port Bienville and Stennis and Bay-Waveland-Hancock County Civil Defense Director Robert Boudin, who will provide the industry representatives with information on emergency procedures.

—Took quotations on lift station, control equipment for use at Port Bienville.

—Approved plans and specifications for a metal building for Con-Tech, Inc., a new tenant for Port Bienville, and agreed to advertise for bids with the bid opening set for Nov. 6; and —Agreed to extend the time on a contract with Sharp Electric to allow for late delivery of materials.

appointed Keith Dedeaux as his successor.

—Heard a report from Kathy Moon of Gulf Regional Planning Commission on the progress of efforts to obtain grant funding for work in McLeod Water Park.

—Accepted a bid on a beach cleaning machine.

—Presented a letter of appreciation to Capt. C.M. Maskell, a representative from the U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion base in Gulfport for assistance in providing a temporary bridge during a construction project in Ansley; and —Approved a permit for Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District, which will allow the district to cross county roads during a pipeline construction project.

The board meets again at 9 a.m. Oct. 30.

equipment, storage areas and other facilities.

Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca, a former contractor who adapted the design for the facility, will oversee the project for the county.

The vote was also unanimous when Beat One Supervisor Bert Courree moved to authorize a five-year loan to pay for the barn.

Also on Monday, the board heard a plea from Frank and Mary Schmlege, the parents of a transferred jail prisoner who want her sent back to the Hancock County Jail.

The board had agreed last week to authorize Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson to attempt to transfer Mary Beth Ryan, the jail's only adult female prisoner, to Harrison County.

Ryan is awaiting an appeal of her convictions on fondling and child molesting charges.

Peterson had her transferred because the Hancock County Jail lacks any type of facilities for an adult female prisoner. He had made Ryan a trusty to keep her segregated from male prisoners during daylight hours.

She had been sleeping in a juvenile cell when one was available and had been sleeping in the jail records room when the juvenile cell was occupied.

Mary Schmlege complained that her daughter is now sleeping in "a crowded cell with 19 other girls and had to get down on her knees and beg for a mattress."

Peterson agreed to consider transferring Ryan back after the new jail is completed, but not before stating that he felt that the problem "has nothing to do with the board of supervisors."

"It's between the sheriff, the district attorney's office and the court."

"You're going to keep on listening to this kind of thing and you're going to wind up in a federal lawsuit," the sheriff told the supervisors.

Board President A.A. Kellar said the couple had requested an appearance before the board after the parents of the children involved in Ryan's cases had appeared to request that a transfer be arranged.

"We have always let whoever wanted to speak come before the board. We have never denied anyone," Kellar explained.

"We heard the other side of this last week, and we're only trying to be fair."

Also on Monday, the board:

—Discussed but took no action on additional funding for the county's volunteer fire departments;

—Accepted the resignation of Shelby T. Hall, a commissioner of the BaySide Park Fire and Water Protection District, and replaced him with Michael Shyrou;

—Unanimously approved a request for $4,000 for the Gulf Coast Crime Commission's Me-ology Program, which is designed to educate sixth graders about drug and alcohol abuse;

—Accepted the resignation of Lisle Dedeaux as county ranger and appointed Keith Dedeaux as his successor.

—Heard a report from Kathy Moon of Gulf Regional Planning Commission on the progress of efforts to obtain grant funding for work in McLeod Water Park;

—Accepted a bid on a beach cleaning machine;

—Presented a letter of appreciation to Capt. C.M. Maskell, a representative from the U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion base in Gulfport for assistance in providing a temporary bridge during a construction project in Ansley; and

Wildcats still alive in South Division race

POPLARVILLE— The Pearl River College Wildcats can control their own destiny in the South Division of the Mississippi junior college football race.

This looks good on paper but it's downright frightening when said out conference mark on the line against Hinds in Raymond Saturday afternoon.

After Saturday's game the Wildcats will host Southwest on Nov. 1, and Gulf Coast and Co-Lin have each other remaining in the division.

The game this Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Stone Stadium on the Copiah-Lincoln Junior College campus, was to be the battle for first and second place in the South Division.

Gulf Coast's Bulldogs, who had already lost to Southwest and Northeast, pulled the rug from under the Wildcats as Chanhvane Adethsack kicked three field goals in the first half to upset the favored Cats.

"It was a very disappointing loss for all of us," said Mike Nelson, the Wildcats' head coach.

The Wildcats turned the ball over six times, losing four of seven fumbles and giving up two interceptions. "I think we had seven different players fumble the football," Nelson said. "If it was just one or two I know we could do something about it. But it seems no one can hold on to the football."

According to Nelson, the Co-Lin Wolves are as good as any team the Cats have faced here in '86. "They have a very potent offense. They can score and score and score," Nelson said.

The Wolves have lost only one game, that to undefeated and number one ranked Northwest. The Co-Lin offense has racked up 193 points, second only to Northwest, and its defense has allowed 123 points.

Pearl River, on the other hand, has scored 146 points while giving up just 76. Twenty-seven of that total came from Northwest in the Wildcats' first loss of the year.

"Our chances of winning Saturday depend on us eliminating the turnovers. If we fumble against Co-Lin we can hang it up because they have an offense which can capitalize," Nelson said.

Nelson said the Wolves have great backs, receivers and a proven quarterback. "Our offense must be able to keep the ball, make some first downs and keep the Co-Lin offense off the field as much as possible."

Last year the Wolves handed the Wildcats a 38-7 homecoming loss. PRC would love nothing more than returning the favor.

The afternoon contest will be the first day game for the Wildcats this year. According to Nelson, it should not really make any difference to his team.

BULLDOG BITE

Saturday night in a rain-drenched War Memorial Stadium in Biloxi, the Pearl River Wildcat offense traded turnovers for points, dropping a 9-7 South Division loss to Gulf Coast.

The Wildcats now 3-1 in the South Division and 5-2 overall, lost four fumbles and threw an interception, giving new-found spark to a recently struggling Bulldog offense.

The loss for Pearl River drops the Wildcats into a tie with Gulf Coast for second place in the South. Copiah-Lincoln is 4-0 following Saturday's 38-14 victory over Hinds.

"The turnovers just killed us," said Pearl River head coach Mike Nelson. "You can't win the big game with that many turnovers. Whenever we have a chance we just lose the ball."

"It's been like this for three weeks in a row. I guess it's time we do something about it."

Early in the game, though, it was the Wildcats who profited from the wet football when Stanford Lewis picked off an errant Danny Kelly pass, giving the Wildcats the ball at the Bulldog 40-yard line. The running of Wildcat freshman quarterback Gerald Tillman moved the ball to the 23, where on third down and 20 tailback Terry Bruton took a delayed handoff up the middle and scampered untouched for the score. Joey Tatum booted the extra point, giving Pearl River a 7-0 lead with 4:43 left in the first period.

Gulf Coast came right back on the ensuing drive, using a tough ground attack to march 42 yards. It was here that Chanhvane Adethsack kicked his first of three field goals of the evening. This one traveled 42 yards, making it 7-3 after one quarter of play.

The Bulldogs marched again the next time they touched the ball, this time moving 60 yards to set up Adethsack's 29-yard boot.

Pearl River responded with its first of four fumbles, a hobble by tailback Thurman Geathers, giving Gulf Coast the ball on the Wildcat 40. Five plays later Adethsack kicked a 37-yarder giving Gulf Coast a 9-7 halftime lead.

In the second half, Nelson went to sophomore quarterback Scott Favre, hoping to engineer a passing game. The result was 99 total yards through the air, 45 of those in the second half.

"We threw a lot," Nelson said. "Our receivers just couldn't get open and when they did they just dropped the ball."

One such occasion came with 2:50 remaining in the third quarter. On a fourth down and 5 at the Bulldog 30, wide receiver Anthony Robertson dropped a bullet from Tillman that would have given Pearl River the ball inside the 15.

The Wildcats had one more opportunity late in the game when they drove to the Bulldogs' 39, but lost the ball on Tracey Boyd's end-around fumble.

TENNIS WINNER— Mary McDowell, left, the Diamondhead tennis pro, congratulates Betty Boyce who won the Mississippi Tennis Association's Fall Circuit Sportsmanship Trophy. In tournament play for Girls 14 and under, Boyce placed third at Treasure Oaks in Ocean Springs and fourth in Pascagoula. At Steve Carter's Tennis Camp in Hammond, La., she was undefeated in her group. After five weeks of summer camp in Brevard, N.C., she was named a 'Top Ten Tennis Player.' During the 1985-86 school year, she earned a letter as a member of the Christ Episcopal High School Tennis Team.

At Homecoming '86

Golden Eagles host Memphis State

HATTIESBURG— USM's Golden Eagles enjoyed three days of rest last week, thanks to a much-needed open date.

However, it was "business as usual" this week as USM opened preparation for Oct. 18th Homecoming '86 and a visit from the Memphis State Tigers.

The record book shows 36 previous meetings between the two schools with the Eagles holding a 21-14-1 edge. Last season head coach Jim Carmody's team came away with a 14-7 decision in a hard-fought game in Memphis.

This also marks the first home game for the Eagles since the season opener way back on Sept. 6 against Northeast Louisiana. In between, the Eagles have played at Alabama, at Mississippi State, at Texas A & M and at Kentucky. And there's more of the same ahead next week as the Eagles go back on the road for an Oct. 25 Louisiana Superdome battle with the Tulane Green Wave.

At Memphis State, first year head coach Charlie Bailey and his Tigers were winless through five games, but that will (as usual) mean little when these two traditional rivals get together.

Tiger all-star candidates include linebacker Octavian Sharp on the defensive side of the ball and flanker Jerry Harris on the offense.

The Golden Eagles will be trying to bounce back from back-to-back losses to Texas A & M and Kentucky. Quarterback Andrew Anderson and a host of tailbacks and receivers will try to get the Golden Eagle offense into high gear for the anticipated large homecoming crowd. Onesimus Henry and Sidney Coleman spearhead the USM defense.

The homecoming weekend promises to be a busy one, with something for just about everyone. The schedule includes a Friday golf tournament along with a baseball oldtimers game while Saturday's slate includes a variety of meetings, open house at the Alumni House, pre-game presentation of the homecoming court and queen and the game itself.

Saturday's game can be heard on the Golden Eagle Radio Network with John Cox handling the play-by-play and Vic Purvis the color commentator.

Game time is set for 7 p.m. with pre-game activities starting at 6:40.

Tickets to Homecoming and other games (road and home) are available from the athletic ticket office located in Green Coliseum, call 601/266-5418 or use the in-state toll free number, 1-800-222-1605.

SSC to host Riverdale at Homecoming

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws are gearing all efforts toward breaking into the win column with a victory over the Riverdale Rebels of Metairie, La., Friday night at Rockchaw stadium.

The young SSC squad of Coach Vernon Powell has only a sprinkling of experienced juniors and seniors, and the squad's improvement game by game has been evident to loyal SSC fans.

In several contests the Rocks stayed close to their opponents throughout the first half, only to be worn down later in the game due to many starters having to play on both the offensive and defensive teams.

But now, with an open date last weekend, the Rocks appear to be in good physical shape to conquer the

4-1 Riverdale Rebels

Riverdale is enjoying its most successful season since they began varsity football competition. After 33 consecutive losses covering three seasons, the Rebels opened up their 1984 season with a 16-9 victory over St. Bernard. St. Bernard had not won a game in its last 23 outings.

Since the St. Bernard victory, Riverdale has beaten Jackson High (of Chalmette), St. John of New Orleans, and East St. John. Their losses were to Warren Easton and Belle Chase.

"Offensively the Rebels run from what we call a strong wing set, similar to Hancock North Central. They pull their guards on almost every play. We must penetrate defensively to jam up their pulling linemen," said Coach Powell.

Riverdale is led by Richard Everett, a 6'10" 175 lb. run-and-throw quarterback who loves to roll out and pass. When no receivers are open, Everett is a dangerous, open-field runner who is hard to tackle. Everett's favorite receiver is split end Brian Avril.

"The attitude on our squad has been good," commented Coach Powell. "Our players know the key to victory is to work hard in practice to prepare for the game."

Coach Powell continued, "We are working on our offensive execution so that we have no mental mistakes. The players are picking up their reads and responsibilities."

Another factor which may enter into the contest Friday is the difference in high school football rules in Louisiana and Mississippi. In Louisiana, a player is allowed to throw a block below the waist as long as he is in front of the man he is blocking. Mississippi only allows blocking above the waist.

This game is expected to be an exciting contest. Despite having four victories, Riverdale has not beaten a team that presently has a winning record this season. Several key areas of Riverdale's weaknesses have been discovered by the SSC coaching staff, and they will be put in to Friday's game plan.

Homecoming festivities for all graduates begin with a social in the school's hall at 5:15 p.m. with the game to follow. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

Raiders' Cooper Ladner, Rachael Perniciaro and Christopher Dauterue are congratulated for outstanding defensive play. Speedball coach Bernard Tusa cited goalie Justin Boudoin for outstanding play. Tusa cited the entire team for an excellent effort.

Knights of Columbus Knights topped Jerry Peoples Under-8 team 3-1 in action Saturday. Knight coach Jim Braud offered the following game highlights: The Knights offense is highlighted by the play of Travis Bashier, who has scored 5 of our 6 goals so far this year, including 3 goals scored Sunday in a rain-shortened game.

Forwards Jason Braud and David Allen assisted Travis by consistently moving the ball well into the opponents' territory. Halfbacks Jason Roche, Scott Wilson, Amanda Kingston, Wendy Colson and Meredith Quinlan provided strong support both offensively and defensively.

The strength of a team is in its defense and the Knights rose to the occasion with the play of its fullbacks Christian Marrione, Ouida Parlsen and Jeremy Braud and the exceptional play of goalie Ty McMichael.

Rotary Club defeated Paul Camp's Under-8 team 5-1. Rotary coach Richard Flowers cited the following players: David Flowers and Michael Flowers, Most Valuable Players; defense: Rick Beecham and Jason Chinoki, MVP, offense; and Benjamin Ladner, most improved player. Goals were scored by Rick Beecham, 2; Jeff Dougher, 1; Jason Chinoki, 1; and Nicholas Ferguson, 1.

Under-12 (Waveland Elementary Field)

Bernard Construction Knights topped CPC Design Panthers 3-1. Knight coach Roselin Watson cited these boys for scoring goals: Scott Pepperman, Richard Watson and Beau Schindler.

Take-One-Video Fireballs tied Pat's Chevron 2-2. Fireball coach Bernard Tusa gave these game highlights: The Fireballs played a very hard-fought game. Our defense played well, but our offense never meshed together well. Zack Corbell played a superior game as goalie.

Under-12 girls (Kingspoint Field, Slidell)

The Kid Company Gators defeated The She Devils 3-2. Gators scoring were Rene LeBourgeois, 1 goal; and Erin O'Brien, 2 goals. Coach Toni Doney offered these game highlights: The Gators showed much improvement with team play. Rene LeBourgeois scored first, halfway through the first half.

The She Devils scored next. At halftime the score was tied 1-1. Erin O'Brien scored 2 goals in the second half within 10 minutes of each other. The She Devils tried to come back in the second half, but only scored once more in the last three minutes of play. Coach Doney congratulated the Gators on good sportsmanship shown by all.

Cornerstone spoils Raider homecoming

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders faced the perennially tough Cornerstone Academy Cardinals from Baton Rouge this past Saturday for their homecoming game.

The Cardinals overpowered the Raiders in the first half, showing the ability to run up the middle on a stingy Raider defense, and building a one-sided 23-0 score.

The Cardinals scored on a variety of plays, including two long passes that the Raiders could not seem to cover.

Momentum switched in the second half after the Raiders woke from their first half slumber. Victor Marchese showcased a long second half drive that punched holes in the Cardinal defense with power plays off guard.

The drive took a longtime but kept the ball from the Cardinals. The point after touchdown was good by Billy Guice. He also kicked a 30-yard field goal to bring the final score to 30-10.

The Raiders played as well as they could considering the many key injuries which forced Billy Guice to take the reins as quarterback for his first start of the year. He completed 2 of 7 passes for 6 yards and ran for 11 yards but played a steady game throughout the contest.

Mike Hart continued to punt well, connecting on one for 60 yards. Fumbles and penalties continue to plague the Raiders' efforts at key points in the game.

A large homecoming crowd enjoyed the game, along with the halftime activities featuring the presentation of the court.

The maids were freshman Hilary Dattel, sophomore Tracy Dillstone; junior Katherine Smith, and senior maids were Parker Deen and Kris Conyers.

The four senior players Henry Furr, John Gregory, Victor Marchese and Bill Riggs crowned Kris Conyers as homecoming queen.

Next Friday, Oct. 17, the Raiders travel to Central Baptist of Baton Rouge for a 7:30 p.m. game. This will be the Raiders' last conference game of the year.

Hawks out to avenge 1985 defeat by Long Beach

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The 8-0 Hancock North Central Hawks will take on Long Beach Friday at the Bearcat's homecoming game.

Irvin Favre, Hancock head coach, says the Hawks are planning to avenge a homecoming defeat last year at the hands of Long Beach.

In the 1985 Hawk-Bearcat game, Long Beach scored a touchdown on the final play of the game defeating the Hawks, 14-14.

"We had them beat last year but they did what they had to do and won the game with no time on the clock," Favre said.

The Hawks are looking for their first ever win over the Long Beach team.

"I don't believe Hancock has ever beat Long Beach in football and hopefully this will be a big incentive for the players," Favre said.

Although the Bearcats have won only a single game this season, Favre said he expects a hard game because of the "real tough" schedule they have played.

Last week the Bearcats missed a two-point conversion in the last 19 seconds of the game and were defeated 15-13 by the Bay High Tigers.

Long Beach has also been defeated by d'Iberville, Ocean Springs and Gulfport.

According to Favre, the Long Beach players are the "biggest" that the Hawks will be facing in the regular schedule.

"The Long Beach offensive lineman average weight is 230 pounds and the defensive linemen average about 240 pounds," he added.

The Hawks will also be watching for Senior Running Back Robert Taylor.

At 6'4", 225 pounds Taylor is a big running back and a much recruited college prospect, Favre said.

"We couldn't cover him last year and he was the player who scored the winning touchdown for Long Beach," he added.

Taylor consistently gets his 100 yards and catches four to five passes per game, Favre said.

"We are planning to put a lot of pressure on Taylor," he added.

Offensively, the Hawks will have to hit the Long Beach line in the right spot on their defense, according to Favre.

"They have four defense setups and we will be working against all of them," he said.

The Hawks are looking for their seventh win this season.

At No. 9, Hancock continues to be ranked in the Associated Press Top Ten Mississippi high school football teams.

Kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m. on the Long Beach field.

ed one fumble for a TD," sponsors said.

BAY HIGH VS EAST CENTRAL

The Birmingham Connection valuable to Eagle recruiters

HATTIESBURG—The USM Golden Eagle spirit is alive and well—and not just in Hattiesburg.

Through the years, a phenomenon that has become known as the Birmingham Connection has grown and prospered. Every fall a new group of freshmen cross the Alabama-Mississippi state line to suit up in the black and gold of USM.

One reason for this migration is the hard work and dedication of the Birmingham Big Gold Club. This group of alumni is on the critical list when it comes to Eagle Fever victims and they do their part to infect as many potential students and athletes as possible.

"The Big Gold Club there is very established," USM senior quarterback Andrew Anderson said. "They do a great job of promoting USM and USM athletics, and when you hear about Southern and some of the players they've had, it kind of boosts you up."

The recruiting process is greatly aided by Birmingham athletes at USM and also by family and friends. Many times these people can be the most influential ones in an athlete's decision.

"My dad played here in 1958 and we always kept up with USM while I was growing up—coming to the games, etc.," senior linebacker Ken Spencer said. "I had a choice between Indiana and USM; I decided to stay closer to home and come to USM to play for a good program that was looking up."

"Another reason I came to Southern was Rhett Whitley; he played here in '81. He was like a big brother to me when I was in high school. He was a big influence—knowing that he was from Birmingham and knowing about the other players from Birmingham that were already here—it was like coming into a family," Spencer said.

Anderson had a similar experience when it came to decision time—one of his high school teammates, Kenneth Bentley, played for USM and talked him into coming for a visit. Anderson liked what he saw: "I wanted to go out of state and it seemed like Southern had the perfect location—it wasn't too close and it wasn't too far. I liked the people down here and when I came for a visit I fell in love with it," Anderson said.

Having friends who had attended USM also played a major role in red-shirt freshman defensive back Tony Johnson's decision to come to Hattiesburg. By discussing USM with his friends, Johnson decided to give USM a try. He has not regretted his decision.

According to Anderson, the schedule also plays a role in the decision-making process.

"I think a lot of people want to come here because of the teams we're playing now. We're playing a lot of top-ranked teams and we can get a lot of national attention if we beat them," Anderson said.

Adding to that is the fact that USM regularly plays Alabama and Auburn, teams these athletes have grown up hearing about. Players know that they will be playing them close to their home, or sometimes at their home, as happened this year when the Golden Eagles faced Alabama at Birmingham's Legion Field.

"Going back to Alabama is fun because that's my home. Also, a lot of people I know who haven't seen me play since high school can come and watch me play again," Spencer said.

"It also gives me a good feeling because I can say 'Alabama didn't give me a shot, so I'm going to go back there and show them that I can do it.'"

"Some people back home think we came to Southern because Alabama didn't recruit us or give us a shot, but that's not true," Spencer said. "We came here because we love Southern."

Books for a fishing library

If you are serious about your fishing—and most bass sportsmen are—then your library provides you with a constant resource for learning and fine tuning your skills. As much as you think you might learn about bass fishing in "Bass: A Handbook of Strategies" by Bobby Murray, Al Linder, Chet Meyers, Ron Linder and Billy Murray, other generalized books may provide you with more insight on the general nature and behavior of fish—which, after all, a bass is.

I don't care if you've been fishing 50 years and won so many tournaments that your biggest worry is how to invest the interest you're making of the purses, you will have to return to the printed page for refresher courses. There isn't a pro on the circuit that knows everything, and in this column two of them share their thoughts on some essential books for avid angler's library.

"I don't think anybody can say they have a fishing library unless they have McClain's 'Standard Fishing Encyclopedia.' I find it amazing as to how many times I refer to that book," states Ken Cook, Evinrude Pro staff member.

"The book that I've seen lately that I think everyone ought to read is Paul Johnson's 'Scientific Angler.' I was pretty impressed by some of his stuff; I thought it was pretty well documented."

"The book that I find has a tremendous amount of information," Cook continues, "is a bass symposium book of the Black Bass Symposium in 1975 called 'Black Bass Biology and Management' by Ray Clepper and it's available from the American Fishery Society. It has a tremendous amount of life history information on all the species of the black bass and the management to some degree. Of course, there's a lot of update information available now because of a more recent symposium."

The type of information I like is scientifically-based. I think the best thing a guy can have in his library to learn about fishing and fisheries is to be a member of the American Fishery Society and subscribe to the 'Journal of Fisheries Management,' which has some real hard information in it about food habits and predator relationships that I think are important. I think it's more important to learn about the biology of the bass than it is to learn about what type of crank baits Bill Dance likes, for instance. I think knowledge about bass is more important than where to fish to catch a big one."

For Randy Fite, Johnson Pro staff member, Buck Perry's 'Success to Spoon Plugging' is the book to base one's library around.

"I credit Buck Perry with everything in the world," Fite states. The key to this book is interpreting what Perry says about spoon plugging and adapt it to the type of bass fishing you do.

"He used a spoon plug to find depth and locate fish by trolling those spoon plugs and, in my opinion, modern day equipment will accomplish these two feats," Fite continues. "But if you interpret his theory about bass migration and bass habits, that's where the educational part comes in. Now we can utilize his theories and at the same time utilize computer technology and equipment to help us speed up that process of learning depth, the structures, and eventually locating bass."

If you respect the bass, you have to know him. Just as in any other sport, knowledge of the opponent's strengths and weaknesses can lead you to success. Today, more so than in the past, professional bassmen are willing to share their knowledge, and most of this is imparted through the printed word in books and magazines.

National School Lunch Week showcases ethnic foods, culture

School food service programs around the United States will celebrate the contributions of various American ethnic groups during National School Lunch Week declared by President Reagan for the week of Oct. 12-18.

During the week, more than 23 million students a day will eat school lunch and participate in the global theme: "School lunch: It makes a world of difference." The event is coordinated by the 58,000 members of the American School Food Service Association.

Each day of the school week a different ethnic group's food and culture will be spotlighted in more than 90,000 schools across America. The official ethnic menus for the week are: British, Hispanic, Italian, Oriental, and an ethnic group of each school district's choice.

Each menu offers some of the tastiest, most nutritious foods from each region of the world. The British entree is fish and chips, the Hispanic food of choice is tacos, the Italian feature is turkey sausage pizza and the Oriental menu highlights sweet and sour pork or chicken. Each menu also offers a salad bar with tempting delicacies from each region.

On the day a particular menu is served, school food service personnel will dish out not only the ethnic treats, but also nutrition and cultural information about the region of the world featured that day. NSLW is traditionally the time when school food service programs have their widest exposure to students.

This year, the National School Lunch Week celebration will offer a tasty potpourri of food and information that will educate millions of students not only about the eating habits of our foreign neighbors, but also about their sports, religions and daily living habits. During the week, school food service personnel will stage thousands of informational and publicity blitzes to help students learn the wide scope of ethnic cultures. NSLW is designed to be educational as well as nutritional.

During the week students will also learn the great contributions made to American culture by these and other ethnic groups.

By seeing the influence ethnic foods have on American menus, students will be better able to understand how the United States has grown to be the world's melting pot of culture, and the importance members of each ethnic community have in the growth of the United States.

The American School Food Service Association is a non-profit professional organization whose 58,000 members provide high-quality, low-cost meals to students across the country.

Members of ASFSA spend $11.4 billion per year to provide more than 23 million nutritious lunches every school day. ASFSA goals include promoting high nutrition standards and a consistent effort to educate students about proper eating habits.

The association also operates an aggressive legislative effort aimed at ensuring a rightful place for child nutrition in the nation's priorities.

House approves one more year for veteran center program

The Veterans Administration's readjustment counseling program for Vietnam-era veterans—comprised of 189 "storefront" centers—would have until Oct. 1, 1990, an extra year, to shift most of its services to VA medical facility grounds under legislation approved unanimously by the House. Under current law, the majority of services offered under the program must be located in VA hospitals by Oct. 1, 1990.

Rep. Bob Edgar, author of H.W. 4623 and chairman of the Veterans' Affairs Subcommittee on Hospitals and Health Care, urged passage of the legislation to allow the VA and the centers more time to plan and execute the shift.

Since 1979, the VA has provided counseling for more than 400,000 veterans and family members in facilities—commonly called Vet Centers—located away from VA hospitals. The centers provide referral services as well as counseling for employment, marital, stress-related and other readjustment problems.

The VA is currently preparing a report on the effectiveness of the Vet Center program and reviewing plans on how to selectively begin closing Vet Centers. Some information for that report has been delayed and is now due in the fall of 1987.

"We need to make certain there is no change in the status or location of our Vet Centers until we have had an opportunity to review this study and needs assessment mandated by the Congress," said Edgar.

H.R. 4623 also authorizes the VA to furnish respite care in its facilities to chronically-ill veterans, allowing caregivers in the veteran's household brief periods of rest; authorizes up to $175 million over the next three fiscal years for the VA to provide grants to states for the construction, renovation, or acquisition of state veterans' home facilities; and requires the VA to establish and maintain a registry of veterans who were exposed to ionizing radiation. H.R. 4623 now goes to the Senate for consideration.

SPORTS from the pressbox

The World Wrestling Federation (W.W.F.) has new tag team champions who seem to be destined for a long reign as kings of the hill. I am referring to those cocky canines of wrestling science, The British Bulldogs.

The team of the F-4-U Bulldogs are composed of Davey Boy Smith and Dynamite Kid, and they are just that, Dynamite. From the time they enter the ring to the time they make the pinfall, it is a never-ceasing barrage of suplexes, body slams, other acrobatic maneuvers, which are as of yet unnamed.

Long known for their athletic prowess and explosive potential, Davey Boy Smith and the Dynamite Kid wrestled in relative obscurity before coming to the W.W.F. last year. While their style thrilled and often amazed fans and opponents, they were not considered serious threats because of their losses, controversial as they may have been, to Jim "The Anvil" Neidhart and Bret "The Hit Man" Hart (The Hart Foundation) as well as their loss to the champion, who they eventually defeated at Wrestlemania II. Brutus Beaufort and Greg "The Hammer" Valentine.

The problem was one of style and strategy. The Bulldogs didn't counter the growing number of rubbishing tondons in the Federation.

NUMBER ONE—Le Cercle Francais, the French club at Bay Senior High, introduced a new concept in homecoming float design this year with its rocketship which took first place in club competition. Traditionally, the backs of pick-up trucks have been transformed into scenes depicting slogans. The French club's rocket, with a Bearcat on its nosecone, was built over a 1978 Plymouth Valiant, and completely concealed the car. (PHS photo)

TOAST TO THE COAST—Five Coast Episcopal Elementary School students whose PTO-member parents are involved in staging the group's third annual "Toast to the Coast" are dressed up as clowns to celebrate that quality family being supported by many fine Coast residents and staff members for the Oct. 31 event. The students are, from left, Katelyn, Katelyn, Katelyn, Katelyn, and Katelyn. The event is a fund-raiser for the school. ### Teachers should have role in administrative evaluations, identifying budget needs

Principals should seek feedback from teachers on administrative performance. Teachers should participate in the budget process by identifying the resources necessary to reach instructional objectives.

Those are two of the 84 recommendations announced by the National Education Association (NEA) and the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) in "Ventures in Good Schooling: A Cooperative Model for a Successful Secondary School." The document outlines numerous ways in which principals and teachers can coordinate to develop a more productive learning environment for students.

"If high quality education is a national essential, then a high quality relationship between teachers and principals is a professional essential to reach this goal," stated Mary Hatwood Futrell, NEA president. "This report provides sound, practical advice to the 270,000 teachers and principals who are responsible for educating America's secondary school students. Its potential to improve learning opportunities is endless."

Scott Thomson, NASSP executive director, explained that information on the joint report will be sent to NASSP's 37,000 members and 1.8 million NEA members.

The report was developed by a joint committee of NASSP and NEA members and is the first cooperative venture between the two groups in more than a decade.

The study, which is designed to be a "blueprint" for improvement, presents specific recommendations in six crucial aspects of secondary education: purpose and goals of the school; school organization and climate; classroom instruction; supervision, evaluation and personnel development; student achievement and behavior; and family and community relations.

"More and more research indicates that the focus of school reform must be the school site," said Thomson. "Teachers and principals are the keys to reaching educational excellence. Their joint desire is to help students reach their potential, and that happens in a school environment where a collegial working relationship exists among teachers and principals."

"Our hope is that Ventures will generate lively, candid, and productive dialogues among the professional school staff," said Futrell. "We envision a cooperative schoolwide effort to determine whether or not staff relationships are conducive to forwarding shared goals for quality education." (Continued on next page) education. Ventures, most simply, offers school-based professionals a means of measuring the distance between what their school is now and what it is capable of becoming. It provides the opportunity to develop a blueprint for self-improvement, a design for greater organizational effectiveness.

The focus of the report is cooperation and ways to improve learning. For example, recommendations in the classroom instruction segment include:

—The principal and teachers collaboratively develop a schoolwide plan for instructional improvement.

—The principal provides opportunity for teachers to plan programs, to develop and refine the curriculum, and to meet and discuss program implementation.

—Teachers use research-based strategies, techniques and materials and develop comprehensive strategies for teaching instructional objectives.

—The principal keeps classroom interruptions to a minimum and helps to resolve problems reported by teachers.

—Teachers participate in the budget process by identifying the resources necessary to reach instructional objectives.

Danger - Children and Lighters

KEEP CIGARETTE LIGHTERS AWAY FROM YOUNG CHILDREN

Do you know that your 3 year old child may be capable of lighting your cigarette lighter?

About 200 deaths each year are associated with fires started by cigarette lighters. Of these, an estimated 140 deaths are the result of children playing with lighters; most of the victims are less than 5 years old. Children who survive such fires are often severely burned, resulting in disfigurement for life and emotional adjustment problems. Many of these tragedies are avoidable.

Cigarette lighters, particularly disposable ones, are fascinating to many children. They —

- are colorful,
- fit easily into a small hand,
- have a wheel that turns and emits sparks, and
- produce a small flame.

This is a recipe for disaster. Children less than five years are twice as likely to die in a fire as older age groups and this is largely because of fires started by children playing with matches or lighters. Children as young as two or three years are known to have ignited these fires. When a fire occurs, children frequently run and hide rather than informing an adult or trying to escape.

NEVER ALLOW YOUR CHILD TO PLAY WITH A LIGHTER

Keep lighters out of sight and out of your child's reach. Never encourage a child to play with a lighter or to think of it as a toy. Do not use it as a source of amusement for a child. Once their curiosity is aroused, children may seek out a lighter and try to light it.

Remember - Small children can light cigarette lighters!

MPC helping education through grants

When school doors open this fall many new programs will be instituted with the help of thousands of dollars in grants from Mississippi Power Company's education foundation.

Formed as a nonprofit organization in 1984, the Mississippi Power Foundation, Inc., has appropriated more than $165,000 to 28 schools requesting grants for educational programs ranging from computer literacy to drug education.

And, with school starting soon, officials from the Gulfport-based utility are meeting with school administrators and teacher's organizations to discuss how they can benefit from the foundation, the first of its kind in Mississippi.

"Mississippi Power Company relies entirely on the economic health and well being of Mississippians," William Browning, foundation chairman said. "It is in our best interest, as well as the best interest of everyone in the state, to help build a solid education system and to make a positive contribution to the quality of life."

Schools in Bay St. Louis, Biloxi, Collins, Gulfport, Hattiesburg, Laurel, Lucedale, Meridian, Starkville and Quitman have already been awarded grants for educational programs.

"With the cutback in educational funding in the state, we realized help was needed," Browning said. "The intent of the foundation is to fund long term and wide ranging academic programs and not basic capital improvements to school facilities."

The foundation looks for programs that contribute to the development of basic skills in reading, writing and mathematics, those recognizing outstanding teachers and students, programs that improve school administration and teacher skills and programs that motivate students to learn.

"To obtain money from the foundation, a program must demonstrate a benefit in the formal education of Mississippi residents," Browning said. "Also, all other means of financing the program must be exhausted and the affiliated institution must prove tax exempt status."

The foundation has funded programs for improving writing proficiency, student management and discipline, literacy, and science projects as well as providing money for computer software and lab equipment.

A board of trustees representing Mississippi Power Company and the communities it serves considers requests for grants.

"We are trying to build a partnership between business and education," Browning said. "We feel this is part of our responsibility to our customers and to the future of Mississippi."

Q. Are there different kinds or levels of drug users?

(C.K., Starkville)
A. Yes, drug users can be divided into three types due to the intake and frequency of drugs taken. The following is a list.

Experimental or recreational users - are those who try drugs once or twice because of curiosity or from the pressure they receive from their peers.

Occasional users - are those who use drugs for their enjoyment/pleasure but not on a regular basis.

Daily or continual users - are those who continue drug use on a regular basis. This type of user needs to maintain drug use in order to function and feel normal. The daily user usually develops a dependency to the drug they are using, whether it be a mental or physical dependency.

Q. Are designer drugs popular among young people?

(D. G., Hattiesburg)
A. Yes. We understand from treatment centers that designer drugs are popular among young people. One of the main reasons for its popularity is that dealers say that they are not illegal.

Drugs have to be defined in terms of their chemical formulas to be classified illegal. Underground chemists bypass legal restrictions by constantly changing the molecular structure of certain illegal drugs producing analogs known as designer drugs that are not scheduled and therefore no laws apply to them.

These drugs may sound enticing to young people, but what the drug dealers don't tell them is that there is a serious side effect involved with the use of designer drugs.

These analogs can cause symptoms that effect the brain-like Parkinson's disease does - paralysis, drooling, impaired speech, uncontrollable tremors, and irreversible brain damage.

Q. Is it true that cocaine is on the uprise in Mississippi?

(K. T., Pascagoula)
A. Yes, cocaine is on the uprise in our state. There is an abundant supply of cocaine on the market now and the supply seems to be increasing.

This can be attributed to an increase in the use due to the availability, the drop in price, and the increase of "Crack." Crack is selling for as little as $5 and up.

Ford grant brings scholars to Ole Miss

An array of renowned scholars on the roles of minorities and women in Southern history and culture will begin visiting The University of Mississippi campus this fall through a $310,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

The grant provides for a visiting professor each semester for three years, as well as three visiting Ford lecturers per semester for the three years.

A seminar series, also funded by Ford, will provide for scholars from other regional colleges and universities to come to Ole Miss and interact with the visiting professors. They will focus on such fields as history, literature and sociology, with an eye toward determining where information gaps exist and then working that information into curricula.

In addition to the Center, the three-year project is being developed through the University's Afro-American Studies Program and the Sarah Isom Center for Women's Studies.

The first Ford Foundation Professor of Southern Studies this fall will be Dr. Blyden Jackson, professor emeritus of English at the University of North Carolina. An authority on Afro-American literature, Jackson will teach a course on the subject.

Visiting lecturers will include Dr. Ira Berlin, professor of history at the University of Maryland, with a seminar Oct. 9-10; Dr. St. Clair Drake, professor of African and Afro-American studies emeritus at Stanford, a seminar Oct. 30-31; and Dr. Jean E. Friedman, associate professor of history at the University of Georgia, a seminar on Nov. 20-21.

MSU president sees economic renewal as role for higher ed

After a year in office, Mississippi State University President Donald Zacharias is more confident than ever that higher education will play a pivotal role in the economic rejuvenation of the state.

"I felt Mississippi State is making more direct contributions to this state's economy and has the potential of making even greater contributions than most people realize," he said recently.

"Historically, a land grant, flagship university like Mississippi State has graduated students who become an important part of the fabric that makes up the entire economic tapestry of a state.

"Today, the university carries on its traditional activities and makes the added contribution of working with various segments of the state of identity, initiate and nurture new business activities. In the process, Mississippi State actually imports dollars for the state through the process of obtaining federal and corporate grants."

More than $10.8 million flowed into Mississippi during fiscal 1985-86 in the form of grants and contracts awarded to the university, Zacharias noted. That figure was up from $8.4 million for the previous 12 months.

Mississippi State is one of many participants in the search for new resources for the state. "But this university, with its land grant status and service orientation, has a lead role in the effort to bring a better quality of life to Mississippi," Zacharias said.

The university is now at a critical juncture in its history, Zacharias believes. A number of outstanding faculty members have been lost during the past year to retirement and to more lucrative offers elsewhere.

Part-time faculty members have been employed in many instances and positions have been left temporarily vacant in other cases when permanent, full-time faculty were called for.

Mississippi State is becoming more dependent on faculty born in other countries, in some areas, resulting in occasional communication problems for students and the faculty member.

"We all need to recognize that professionals are willing to postpone only for a limited time recognition of their salary needs," Zacharias said. "We were fortunate this was not a year of high inflation or faculty would have suffered a greater loss financially."

"We face a dilemma. The university has an enormous need for better funding for salaries, equipment, library support and completion of projects like the unfinished Creative Arts Complex on campus at the very time when revenue in the state is being hurt by the declining prices of oil and farm products. There is a need for a significant increase in state revenues at the very time people are experiencing loss of income."

The alternatives, Zacharias said, are to wait for the economy to recover and subsequently yield increased revenue, or for the legislature to take some direct action to provide more income for the state.

"We have to understand that funding provided to the university is primarily an investment and not an expenditure," Zacharias continued.

"It is an investment because the direct consumers involved are students, industries and schools who employ our graduates, businesses which are started by our graduates, and the communities throughout the state which benefit directly from the revenue in the form of wages and salaries of our employees."

The past year marked a transition in the life of Mississippi State which goes beyond new leadership in the president's office, Zacharias said. "I think we moved in the direction of an institution that has people who are here by virtue of their commitment to a brighter time for Mississippi and Mississippi State."

"If they were not optimists and if they did not have a sincere belief about their ability to make a difference, they may well have departed last year. The people here now have those qualities of optimism and commitment. I think they will remain committed to the state unless there is a total collapse of leadership in the state in the effort to find relief from the financial drought."

The optimistic Zacharias is quick to detect the silver lining around the cloud of inadequate financial support. "This kind of environment can produce—and I think it has produced here—a cooperative effort among departments and colleges that might not have come about as quickly without the fears and concerns for survival."
